

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a violation of the public trust and a clear misuse of the public airwaves. The airwaves belong to the people of this country and should be used to serve the public interest, not to force one corporation's political agenda down the throats of the public.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
